

About No More Stolen Childhoods (NMSC)

Founded by entrepreneur and childhood sexual abuse survivor Wayne Coffey in 2004, No More Stolen Childhoods (NMSC) aims to change the public perception about childhood sexual abuse, help those abused find fulfillment in their permanently scarred lives, and advocate for victims of child sexual abuse by changing public policies.

1 in 4 girls and 1 in 6 boys will be sexually abused before the age of 18. Roughly 57,000 cases of sexual abuse are reported each year. NMSC Advocacy for Policy Change in Maryland

The Hidden Predator Act HB974 mirrors Maryland's current laws for criminal cases related to child sexual abuse by having no statute of limitations and provide victims access to the justice system in civil court. HB974 will create a more public level of evidence disclosure uncovering potential abusers still interacting with kids' "hidden predators," provide a two year "look back" window allowing adult survivors the opportunity to pursue a case in civil court, and for civil proceeds to transfer the life-long cost of abuse from the victim to the abuser.
